

The "Do not Fax" rule adversely affects our business. We send faxes to about 40 thousand doctors a year updating them on our new products and offering professional samples and medical information. We respect do not-fax requests. Requiring prior approval--how do we get permission if we can't fax them???

Please let me know.